

eXpurgate.Inhouse

Secure e-mail communication for companies

Protect your company securely against spam, malware, phishing and ransomware - on-premise - and retain full control over your sensitive data.

On-premise Email Security - Flexible customisation to your requirements

When it comes to the security of your email communications, you should not compromise, as email remains the favourite target of cybercriminals.

Our on-premise email security solution eXpurgate.Inhouse is the right choice, especially if you have special regulatory/compliance requirements, want to ensure full control over your data or need to comply with certain security and data protection regulations.

An efficient email security solution is one of the most important security aspects for companies. With eXpurgate.Inhouse you can reliably protect your sensitive data from spam & malware as well as sophisticated phishing & ransomware attacks.

Maximum protection, minimum hardware requirements eXpurgate.Inhouse is optimised for resource-saving use: optimum use of CPU and RAM, minimal memory requirements and low network load make eXpurgate.Inhouse an ideal all-rounder for almost any environment.
