New CEO of the dataglobal Group: Nicolas Schwarzpaul

Extensive management experience in the industry

As CEO, Schwarzpaul most recently led GEDAT, a software manufacturer for personnel service providers, to operational excellence, sustainable growth and cloud business. Before that, he successfully managed P&I AG in Wiesbaden as a subsidiary's Head of Sales and Managing Director. Schwarzpaul thus also brings extensive experience in merging companies into new structures.

"I am passionate about leading the dataglobal Group with a clear focus and innovative solutions to achieve its goals. We want to become a leading provider on the European market for digital workplace solutions. It is important to me to take the people in the company with me, to inspire them and to support them in their professional development," says Schwarzpaul, describing his motivation.

Potential recognised

Under the motto "The World is Your Workplace", the dataglobal Group from Heilbronn stands for high-performance software solutions for the digital workplace as a driver of digital transformation. It combines established solutions for enterprise content management (ECM), business process management (BPM), resource management, and mail security into a holistic, innovative approach. The dataglobal Group was created from the merger of four successful companies. The well-known product brands include dataglobal CS, eXpurgate, windream and vysoft.

"With its widely established products and thousands of customers, the dataglobal Group has enormous potential in the digital workplace sector. Together with our partners and by combining our products and skills, we can realise many new solutions that practically implement use cases," says Schwarzpaul, outlining the further expansion of the portfolio - organically and through targeted acquisitions.

One example of this development is the acquisition of vykon, announced in May, which adds a whole new facet to the concept of the digital workplace with its resource management solutions. The vysoft solutions enable the sustainable and resource-efficient management of office desks, meeting rooms, car parks and much more, thus building a bridge from the digital to the analogue world.
